The top area -- Statistical output -- shows the accumulated stats this league has compiled over the course of the season by adding every team's stats together.

The middle area -- League comparison -- shows the range from the best to the worst league in each of the scoring categories and indicates with the ▶ image approximately where this league stands overall.

The bottom area -- Yours -- is the exact position where this league ranks overall and is derived in the rotisserie format (earning points for each of the stat categories and adding them together). The bolded numbers on the right represent this league's total production and overall percentile. To derive a team's overall (adjusted) point total, add the bolded number to the number of points the team has accumulated (roto), or the total number of wins the team has to date (H2H). The adjusted total is only used to determine the overall prize winners. For more info on this subject, see the Rules Index.
